

The men of All Saints are

Going Fishing

If you're inclined to think fishing is boring it could be because you are doing it wrong! We plan to correct that as we hit the water on beautiful Pittwater with the expert guidance that will give us the best chance of hooking a catch.

We'll start early with some breakfast, Nick will send us off with the pointers we need to bring home a feed, then we'll be into the boats for a morning on the water. We'll come back to the beach for some prizes for the best catch and Rick will bring us an introduction to Jesus - another bloke that knew a thing or two about catching a fish.
